

Week beginning 23.3.30

French

If an adult is happy to, ask them to register themselves for a free account on Duolingo.

You can use it either on the computer, or there is also an app to download.

Here is how to get started:

- Visit <https://www.duolingo.com/>
- Click on 'get started'
- Click on 'French'
- Click on 'School'
- Choose a daily goal
- Click on 'not now'
- Click on 'New to French'
- Work through the questions and it should eventually ask you to create a profile.
- You can create a profile with your age. You will then be asked to create a username (not your real name) and it will ask for your parent's email.
- It has several different categories like 'basics', 'greetings', 'people' and 'travel'.

Enjoy! I regularly use Duolingo and my daughters enjoy it too!

w/b 23.3.20, Art

Why not create some art from nature?

Explore your garden or go for a walk to collect natural objects (leaves, flower petals, sticks, stones, etc.).

Then create a piece of art with your findings. Ask your adult to take a photo and, if possible, print it out and stick it in your blue literacy/topic book (with a short written description of your masterpiece).

Here are a few examples created by some of Team Class 3.

w/b 23.3.20

PE

- Get outside and get active!
- Go for a walk, run, play football, etc.
- Next step for netball: practise pivoting on one foot and then passing the ball to your team mate. We have practised our chest and bounce passes in lessons. Remember Mr Hodge's top tip: when catching the ball, catch it in the air and land on two feet; this way you can then choose which foot you will move and which foot you will pivot on.

Science: Maddie Moate

- My girls love Maddie and we have seen her twice now at the Norwich Science Festival.
- Her daily live show starts Monday at 11am.
- This week the theme is 'gardens'.
- <https://youtu.be/b7bi3xOZpaM>
- She also has her own website: <https://www.maddiemoate.com/>

Fancy a fun literacy and maths challenge?

- My eldest daughter has been joining in on 'Countdown' at school with her class.
- Watch Countdown either on TV or the computer and join in on the challenges!
- Pause the programme if you would like a bit more time.
